e-Newsletter 5 - Learn from the Masters

Masterclass

Coming up on 7th & 8th July, Jeremy will be joining forces with Nigel Ashcroft from Green Umbrella, to deliver a two day 'Television Production Masterclass' in Bristol. Appropriately subtitled 'Learn from the Masters' this will be a fantastic opportunity to learn from two of the most experienced programme makers in the factual television business. Between them, Jeremy and Nigel have over 50 years of production experience and this is a rare opportunity to gain insight and learn from these two programme makers with experience in Science, History and Natural History.

There will be the opportunity to learn about budgeting, scheduling, equipment and crew choice, observational sequence shooting, lighting, HD cinematography, shooting with presenters, editing, music and deliverables, Q & A and much, much more. More details are available on our website www.jeremyhumphries.com/news.asp.

To send us your comments and suggestions or to register your interest for any of the workshops, please contact Angela angela@jeremyhumphries.com

Filming Projects

For the regular readers of the newsletter you will know that Jeremy has recently returned from a 2 month filming assignment in Africa - 'To The Ends of The Earth' will be screened in the Autumn on BBC1 - look out for news about this in future newsletters and in particular look out in the summer and early Autumn for our planned 'how we did it' workshops, where a behind the scenes explanation of how the series was shot will be on offer.

More topically Jeremy has just embarked on filming the second series of 'Ladette to Lady - Australia' - Jeremy has already filmed the first series which was originally commissioned for Australian TV, but will now be shown on ITV1 in June - check the ITV website for details. (At the time of going to press we are told that the new series will start screening on ITV1 at 9pm on Tuesday 2nd June).
